ENERGIZING CIRCUITS ISN'T A DIFFERENT VENDOR

Whether your project is telecommunications, digital signage or point-of-sale, it all requires electricity. Often times this means you're stuck hiring local tradesmen and managing multiple vendors. Deployment is just a piece of the puzzle. Core Technology Solutions understands this. Our commercial electrical services leverages a national footprint of local electricians, journeymen, and tradespeople. We have the ability to handle the entire project.

CTS delivers certified and licensed professionals that can help with estimating, wiring and energizing your electrical requirements. Our abilities allow us to slipstream electrical services into a normal project flow. This means you get technical deployment, electrical services, project management and ticket automation together, under one roof. One partner means less coordination. No more hunting for local resources. We have the expertise, in-house, to discuss construction along with your technical project goals. Ask Core Technology Solutions about your electrical needs and let us help!
